Dear Mr. Bicknell,

I wanted to let you know that we have secured enough propane to cover the needs of the Arrowhead Property Owners Association for the 2010-2011 heating season.

Your price will be $1.849 per gallon from July 01, 2010 through June 30, 2011. That will be a fixed price for the entire year and will not fluctuate with the market. There will be no lock in fee associated with keeping your price fixed for the heating season. Since the association homeowners are on meters, your June 2010 bill was billed out at the previous price of $1.599 per gallon and the new rate will be reflected in the bill you receive at the end of July.

Thank-you for your continued business and we look forward to serving your association for another year.

Sincerely,

Steve Cameron
Market Manager
